

Why join ANAC?

ANAC fosters the professional development of nurses and others involved in the delivery of healthcare for persons at risk for, living with, and/or affected by the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and its co-morbidities. ANAC promotes the health, welfare and rights of people living with HIV around the world.

Our members enjoy these benefits:

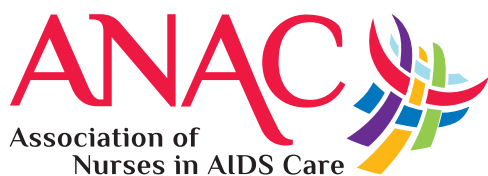

- Global and local networks of colleagues with shared interests
- Invitations to members-only events, committees and other opportunities that focus on HIV nursing, research, health policy, equity and social justice
- Discounted registration to ANAC's annual conference
- Subscription to the Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care (JANAC), a highly regarded, peer-reviewed professional journal
- Discounted fees for professional certifications through the HIV/AIDS Nursing Certification Board (HANCNB)
- Dozens of virtual and in-person professional development opportunities, many offering CNE contact hours
- Eligibility for ANAC achievement awards
- Access to cutting-edge resources, information and research on HIV and HIV-related comorbidities
- Access to the membership directory, a source of collaboration and networking

ANAC is:

- A globally recognized organization offering networking opportunities, education, research and support to nurses and others caring for individuals with HIV.
- An inter-professional forum for advancing a collective vision of an AIDS-free world.
- The preeminent source for nursing expertise related to all dimensions of HIV and its co-morbidities.

ANAC members are nurses, other healthcare professionals and partners who are:

- Dedicated to ending HIV and AIDS
- Dynamic and innovative leaders in evidence-based HIV and AIDS care
- Person-centered, caring and inclusive
- Committed to social justice
